

How to report a change in your income

1. Login to your account (if you're locked out of your account, you can use our web chat service to unlock it)
2. Scroll down until you see a blue button that says "report a change"
3. Select Edit Information in the Employment & Income Status section of the Application Review page.

Employment & Income Status

| Name     | Employment Status | Total Monthly Income | Total Monthly Deductions | Total Net Income |  |
|----------|-------------------|----------------------|--------------------------|------------------|--|
| Jane Doe | Yes               | $2249.98            | $0                      | $2249.98 | Edit  |
| John Doe | Yes               | $835                | $0                      | $835            | Edit   |

4. Review the blue text to understand what types of income you should report and what types of income you shouldn't report. If you're unsure about whether some of your income needs to be reported, consider asking a Tax Professional.

7. If the income we calculate for you doesn't match the amount of money you expect to make this year, put in the current annual income in The Net Annual Income section at the bottom of the page.

Why is this an option? It is possible that you're self-employed and you expect your monthly income to change throughout the year. Or maybe you received a payment that was one-time lump sum. Whatever the circumstance, you may not regularly receive the same amount of income each month.

8. If you choose to use the Net Annual Income option, Enter the total amount you actually expect to earn by December 31st, in other words, use the amount you expect to report when you file your taxes next year.

If you're not sure, just give your best guess.
